Contemplating Christ and Creation

30 Days

Charlotte Bowden

Copyrighted Material

Charlotte Bowden works with the Christian mission movement, Youth With A Mission and has taught the Bible around the world. She is trained as a spiritual director and horticulturist and leads retreats.

Jesus, who walked in close communion with his Father, needed alone-time with him, away from all the activity of the world, to rejuvenate and be with the one he loved. As we abide in Christ, we too need to escape the hurry and noise, and withdraw to a place of silence and solitude, and be with Jesus without the distractions.

For Christian formation to occur and to know Christ more deeply, we need to resist those activities and desires we love, but which are not transformational, and spend time with the Lord.

Contemplating Christ and Creation invites you to reflect on God, yourself, and creation, as you ponder on the biblical story and engage with ancient practices for spiritual formation.
